Online Security Policy

Policy

At First Aid Accident & Emergency we take your privacy and security seriously.

When you book your training class, you'll usually pay online via a credit card. We use a secure payment gateway for this to protect your credit card details. Your payment information is sent directly to our secure payment gateway, which communicates with our bank in real-time to process the transaction immediately. Your credit card information is never stored on this website.

You will receive notification on whether the transaction was successfully processed, and will receive your transaction receipt via email a few minutes later. Our secure payment gateway complies with the highest levels of protection, including PCI DSS compliance.
